Input Needed - Independent Contractors Survey

What's happening: In July, Attorney General Keith Ellison created the Advisory Task Force on Worker Misclassification to understand worker experiences, think through the problem of worker misclassification, and make recommendations to the legislature and state agencies to put an end to the problem. Dig deeper here.

What is worker misclassification? Worker misclassification occurs when an employer improperly classifies an employee as an independent contractor. The Task Force is also considering the classification status of “gig workers” -- those who work off app-based platforms (i.e. food delivery platforms).

What we're doing: Hospitality Minnesota is closely monitoring the monthly task force meetings and will look to weigh in appropriately on potential future legislation.

How you can help: We are trying to gauge how many hospitality businesses rely on independent contracts in their daily work. Please take our 3 question survey to help our team gain a better understanding of what will impact hospitality.

Celebrating the Life of Gene Glader

Long-time board member and former President of the Minnesota Resort and Campground Association, Gene Glader passed away on November 22, 2023.

Along with his family, Gene owned and operated the Cascade Lodge along the north shore of Lake Superior.

Friend and colleague, Paul Bugbee, Bug-Bee Hive Resort, shared that “Gene was a kind and gentle man who had a tremendous passion for Minnesota resorting. He fully understood the challenges, hard work and sacrifices involved with resorting, and was always encouraging and supportive of fellow resorters throughout the state, and championed energy efficiencies and natural resources environmental causes. Gene Glader was a kind and gentle man who always saw the good in everyone and everything he encountered.”
